

BEATBOX COLLECTION

Designed for corporate, educational and public spaces, Beatbox is comprised of sofas, screens, and tables that can create a modular seating space or an individual hub.

Beatbox screens attach onto the back and sides of a seating unit to transform an open seat into a private enclosure. The collection offers a place where individuals can collaborate or have a focused space that provides privacy while still maintaining comfort and functionality.

Beatbox offers flexibility and easy access to charging. Add power modules into sofas or occasional tables and simply route cables underneath to direct wiring out to a floor monument.

Beatbox allows for collaborative or private seating arrangements and can be adapted as desired to form multi-use spaces. Versatile components create environments where every member can connect, engage, and flourish.

The TV screen is divided into several sections. On the left, there is a data dashboard with a pie chart and a bar chart. On the right, there is a video conference window showing a group of people in a meeting. Below the video window, there is a chat log with the following text:

The freedom to reconfigure as needs and preferences change creates a dynamic and fresh space. Beatbox offers a comprehensive line of modular lounge seating, benches, and occasional tables that can conform to the needs of a multitude of environments. Individual spaces seamlessly integrate with larger collaborative configurations, facilitating both concentrated personal work and collaborative teamwork.
