One challenge was to find furniture that supports the unique needs of the packaging industry, such as accommodating equipment and tools used in the packaging process. Another challenge was to incorporate sustainable and environmentally friendly furniture solutions, in line with the growing trend of sustainable packaging. By carefully considering these goals and challenges, the design firm aimed to create an office space that promotes efficiency, creativity, and sustainability for the customer.

THE SOLUTION

In selecting OFGO STUDIO products for the office space, several key features and benefits played an essential role. High-quality and durable furniture selection was important in meeting the needs of a busy and dynamic office environment. The design firm also considered the versatility of the furniture with the aim of providing a wide range of customizable options in terms of materials, finishes, and configurations. This allowed the design firm to create a cohesive and tailored look with a combination of MyZONE 120° benching and PANELX acrylic screens that aligned with the brand identity of the customer. The design firm prioritized the comfort and well-being of the employees, as ergonomic features can enhance productivity and reduce workplace injuries. Lastly, environmental sustainability was a key consideration.
